

Figure 1: Vision-Language Accessible Navigation (VLAN) evaluates whether models can produce embodiment-specific navigation actions and accessibility predictions for a visual scene with same start-goal pair and obstacle layout. Since accessibility is conditioned on user mobility and perception, the same obstacle may induce distinct outcomes across users, ranging from passable to blocked.